

“Real Choice” by Karen Donovan
Recorded at Speak Up Speak Out; November 5, 2009

I don't want to be what you think I should be
And I don't want to see what you think I should see

And I want to be me
And I want to be free

I want a real choice, yeah
I want a real voice
Give me a real choice
And let, let me be me

You must see the me that I know I can be
You must hope and free these chains holding me

And you, can make it all change
And you, must make it all change

I want a real choice, yeah
I want a real voice
Give me a real choice
And let, let me be me

We are here to make a stand as one
And we are here to shape what we have begun

And we, come to speak up
And we, come to speak out

I want a real choice, yeah
I want a real voice
Give me a real choice
I want a real voice
Give me a real choice
I want a real voice
Give me a real choice

(Tony – That one's for you Lester)